Healthcare Just Got a Little More Competitive

Healthcare Insurance Exchanges are Confusing. Make it Simple For Consumers to Choose Your Plan

Consumers Have Questions – Give Them Tools to Find Answers

In the chaos surrounding many of the new healthcare insurance exchanges that have opened in states across the country, there is a good chance consumers will choose whatever plan offers simple answers and the easiest on-boarding process.

A secure USB card can help. Quick links to where they need to go for information? Check. Updated contact info to get hold of the right person? Check. Easy access and one-stop source for documents, proposals and claim instructions? Check. Check. Check.
